MATEFLEX II®

I was able to run, change direction, and move about more confidently than on either asphalt or the clay courts.

- Bill R. Toledo, OH

It rained steadily - We were wet - Balls were wet - Court was dry - Great choice - Thanks to all involved.

- Paul M. Toledo, OH

Matéflex II offers the very best in design technology and is specifically engineered from the ground up for tennis court resurfacing to enhance performance. A Matéflex II surface combines the comfort and resiliency to support all levels of athletic play. The Matéflex II tile features a narrow gauge rib system for quick drainage, high traction, and good ball bite (less skid), which is ideal for tennis. This is comparable to using a narrow gauge racquet string. Even after many years of wear and tear, these ribs will maintain the same width and therefore the same playing speed.

Matéflex II incorporates a unique leaf spring type flex joint system. This has three important advantages: provides controlled lateral give during play to reduce muscle stress and enhance player comfort, conforms to minor undulations in the substrate, and controls thermal expansion. Matéflex II is formulated from a high-impact polypropylene copolymer material, and its state-of-the-art stabilizers ensure that the product will last under any climate or weather condition. Your investment in the best tennis court resurfacing product is fully backed by the first and oldest name in the business, Matéflex.

APPLICATIONS:

- Tennis
- Ball Hockey
- Dek Hockey
- Basketball
- Pickleball
- Shuffleboard Courts
- Backyard Courts

HOMECOURT®

“

Working with Mateflex was a breeze! From the very beginning, their customer service was top notch. They catered to our specific needs in order to help resurface two of our basketball courts. Once the work started, the project was finished and our residents were playing on them in just a few short days. Now, almost a year later, we are still very satisfied with the product. We look forward to working with Mateflex on future projects and would highly recommend them to others.

– Janet D. Middletown, NJ

A HomeCourt designed backyard court can be small enough to fit into most backyards, but big enough to make a full range of competitive sports come alive for family fun. HomeCourt is the ultimate year-round backyard court tile from the makers of the original modular flooring. HomeCourt has narrow gauge ribs for excellent traction, and the low-abrasion surface reduces wear and tear on sports equipment and shoes. The tile's expansion joints are designed so that the tiles can be trimmed tight to your fence or border to give your court a professional, finished look.

Best of all, HomeCourt backyard courts are colorful, attractive and affordable! With 19 standard colors to choose from, any look is possible. And you can personalize it with custom logos and designs painted directly onto your HomeCourt surface.

APPLICATIONS:

- Badminton
- Basketball
- Inline Hockey
- Paddle Tennis
- Pickleball
- Shuffleboard

MATÉFLEX MODULAR FLOORING

- At Matéflex we know sports and flooring. That's why we engineer all our state-of-the-art sports surfaces for peak performance and near bulletproof durability. Our modular floor tiles are portable and extremely low maintenance. And that's not all—these tiles are affordable and easy to install.

WE WERE THE FIRST, THE ORIGINAL

- The original concept of Mateflex was developed in France in the 1960's. In 1974, Mateflex-Mele Corporation was formed to manufacture and market for the United States. We have been in continuous operation at our Utica, NY headquarters ever since, under a parent company established in 1912.

WE SWEAT THE DETAILS

- Attention to detail and dedication to rigorous standards make our snap-together tiles a high quality solution for all sports surfaces. We oversee all aspects of the manufacturing process so we're on the front lines when it comes to quality control. As a floating flooring manufacturer, we're committed to using the finest materials, and continually refining the manufacturing process to achieve the highest possible standards.

FUNCTIONALITY

- It all adds up to highly functional, specialized flooring solutions brought to you by America's premier manufacturer of modular flooring. Matéflex is an excellent choice for any sports flooring or specialized flooring application.
