New Water Diverter

WOW System

The improved electric water diverter replaces the large manual diverter in select Wellis models.

The electric water diverter makes for a gentler massage experience because after activation, the speed of the water increases gradually.

The gradual changing direction of the massage every five seconds, creates a pulsing effect, providing an even more invigorating feel than a traditional massage.

Insulating air pockets

New Scandinavian Insulation

All of the new Wellis spas incorporate an innovative Scandinavian insulation. In addition, 1.4" of POLYFOAM boards have been installed into the spa's framework, rather than fastening them to the cabinet.

In the ABS bottom pan, polyfoam has been replaced with the best insulator - Air. Wellis achieved this by installing an ABS sheet 1.2" from the bottom plate, creating insulating pockets of air.

WATER PURITY

03

Water Purity

All Wellis spas use a multi-stage filtration and sanitation system that ensures crystal clear, safe bathing water with minimum user input.

An electronic sanitation device greatly reduces the amount of chemicals required, thereby improving the water quality for soakers.

Crystal Clear System

Thanks to the 2" diameter pipe, the Wellis motor circulates more water and does so faster, thus, filtering the water more rapidly.

The new circulation jet has been designed to have 3 zones. Two of these zones direct the water downwards to stir up heavier debris that has settled in the footwell of the hot tub.

The third zone helps direct the flow toward the filtration system.

OZMIX System

Disinfection efficiency can be increased by mixing ozone in the water.

The OZMIX system has proven to be more effective than comparable disinfection systems with the addition of chlorine and a balanced pH.

Wellis's goal is to achieve the best possible disinfection system while reducing the amount of chemicals that are currently needed for the safe use of a spa.

EXPERIENCE & DESIGN

04

Future of Design

Lightside Spa Cabinet

The wood grain-look finish of the cabinet and wide horizontal side and corner bars add an intimate atmosphere of the Wellis lineup of spas.

Cabinets are available in both gray and brown.

Wellis's new spa cabinet is sleek and aesthetically pleasing. An eye-catching LED strip runs along the side of the spa cabinet (PeakLife). Newly developed corner elements give a more modern and refined look to our new design.

Neck Massage & Headrest

The neck massage and headrest take your daily stress off your shoulders and neck with their advanced ergonomics and more comfortable design. The design of the headrest follows the line of the neck and head, creating a cradle so you can relax even more comfortably in our hot tubs.

Future of Design

Filter Housing

Our custom- made filter housing has an outstanding design and complements the overall design of the hot tub. Filters can be replaced easily in one easy step.

Waterfall

Sit under the cascading water and enjoy a soothing neck and shoulder massage. This blissful water feature is a new development for Wellis. There is no other product on the market like it.

Infinity Jet

We specially designed the 7" rotating infinity jet. This jet makes the experience even more enjoyable by massaging a larger portion of the body. Rather than just moving up and down, it draws a figure eight as it rotates.

Wellis-Centric Lighting

Wellis-Centric Lighting (WCL) is based on the belief that colors and colored lights can have a positive impact on a person's physical and mental health. Various scientific studies have shown a relationship between the human body and specific colors.

In.Mix Color Therapy Mood-Lighting

When connected to our SmartTouch control systems, in.mix transforms our touch screen into a real lighting console with a perfectly designed interface. Create your personalized ambiance easily with an infinite selection of colors and a light intensity dimmer. In.mix can drive and control up to three light zones in or around your spa (inner, rim, cabinet). The color selection can be independently managed or synchronized to create stunning visual displays. In.mix comes with a built-in power supply and can be connected to your spa's control system. It can illuminate the water of your spa or create accent colors around it.

EvenLight Jets

Wellis came up with countless patents for our new models, one of which was for lighting jets. The jets illuminate not just themselves, but also the surface around them. The interior of the spa is sleek and modern in its appearance and is like sitting in a space ship. There is nothing else like this on the hot tub market. The lighting jets not only give the spa a more modern appearance, but also a larger lighting surface.

Wellis-Centric Lighting

Edge Lighting

The Edge lighting is a separately controllable lighting and design element located under the accents, the cup holder, water features, and the filter housing. You can control them all at the same time. This lighting can differ from the color of the EvenLight jets.

LightSide Cabinet System (Peaklife)

The LightSide cabinet system appears in Wellis' new spas, which includes hidden lighting under the corner elements, and an in-house developed LED strip, which runs along the side cabinet of the hot tub. The light can be adjusted separately. The integrated LED strip gives a special atmosphere while relaxing.

Well Lighting

All of our hot tub models include central underwater lighting, which lights the water of the entire spa.

Wellis Massage

Relax Massage Seat

This seat largely targets the regeneration of the shoulder girdle and the longitudinal trunk muscle tissues, as well as the hip flexor muscles and the knee extensor muscles - the muscle groups most exposed to everyday strain.

Expert Massage Seat

This seat's adjustable jets offer physiological effects, with customized directional and strength control.

Cool Down Massage Seat

The armchair designed provides relaxation after training. In addition to the physiological recover offered, its overall calming effects are also significant.

Wellis Massage

Focus Massage Seat

This seat offers its user an experience similar to the “Expert” effect, relaxing the longitudinal trunk muscle tissues, and passively activating the hip and thigh flexor and extensor muscle groups.

Body Flow Massage Seat

This is the massage seat with the most intensive physiological effect. In addition to affecting the trunk’s muscle tissue, it also positively impacts venous and lymphatic circulation in the lower limbs, bringing relief to vein valves.

Intenso Massage Seat

This is the most refreshing massage seat and is a favorite of professional athletes. Intenso is ideal for recovery after an intense training session, working the most critical areas, the back and leg muscles.
